

Mr V Subramanyam

Presently, Secretary to the Government of India since 1st February, 2006. He belongs to West Bengal cadre 1971 batch of Indian Administrative Service. A commerce graduate of University of Madras and a qualified banker, he started his career as a sub-divisional magistrate at Kalna and Barrackpore during 1973 to 75. During his stint with the government of West Bengal, during 1975 to 1983, he was additional District Magistrate, 24 Praganas District and District Magistrate Burdwan District. He was also an Excise Commissioner and managing director of the State Cooperative Bank. He was deputed to the Government of India in 1983 as Deputy Secretary, Department of Expenditure and was the Director in the Department of Economics Affairs during 1985-89. In 1990 he went on a commonwealth assignment as Advisor on Loan and Grant Management to the Government of Mozambique. On his return to west Bengal, he was the Power Secretary and Labour Secretary in the State Government. Shri Subramanyam came back to centre in February 2000 as Financial Advisor, Ministry of Civil Aviation, Tourism and Culture. In December 2004, he joined the ministry of Rural development as Additional secretary and Financial Advisor, wherein October 2005, he was promoted to Special Secretary. Presently he is Secretary to the government of India in the Ministry of Non Conventional Energy Sources.